

Brendle Group is an engineering and planning firm focused on helping clients solve complex problems while creating lasting sustainability impacts. We approach global challenges head on by bringing innovative sustainability solutions to support our clients' bottom-line goals.

Founded in 1996, Brendle Group was a pioneer in the now flourishing field of sustainability. We approach each project with thought leadership and creativity—thriving at the vital intersections of climate, energy, and water through practical planning, robust engineering and analysis, and actionable implementation. Ultimately, we work to solve fundamental challenges by bringing sustainability innovation to our partnerships.

K-12 & Higher Education

“As an administrator, who is not an expert in sustainability, it was incredibly valuable to have the support from the Brendle Group team. Their support helped me feel confident and well informed when presenting options to Legacy Academy’s board of directors.”

Kurt Nabar, Principal, Legacy Academy (from support provided through the Colorado Energy Office Energy Savings for Schools program)
